MISS JESSIE WILSON AND HER FIANCE PHOTOGRAPHED WHILE OUT WALKING TOGETHER

Outdoor Cooking.

That introduces to you Mrs. Emily Riesenbergh, the noted American woods-woman who knows more about teasing appetizing meals out of the limited resources of a tent-kitchen than, perhaps, any other woman in the country.

Mrs. Riesenbergh has broiled trout in the pine woods of Maine. She has roasted venison on a spit far up in the heart of Canada. She has cooked bear meat in the Rockies and has toasted clams in Mississippi!

And in addition to all this she has gone on walking tours of weeks with her family—"traveling light," as they say—which means carrying all food supplies on the back as fishermen do.

In the Sunday News-Times Mrs. Riesenbergh is going to tell you what foods to take and how to prepare them if you are "going camping." You may rely on her information and thus insure absolutely the success of your vacation—be you a group of men, a family or a tent of girls! But in future articles Mrs. Riesenbergh will write for stay-at-homes. She will tell, in one of her articles, how most successfully to pack meals for an all-day picnic in the park.

She will tell what to take for a beach-supper! She will tell how to cook your Sunday dinner on Saturday, to avoid heating the house up Sundays!

And she will tell how to prepare, cooling foods for sultry summer days! You will not want to miss these "outdoor meal" articles, written by the most noted Woods-Women from Matine, Mexico.

They begin Sunday in the News-Times.

WATCH FOR THEM!

MRS. EMILY RIESENBERG.

PHILIPS FOR COUNCIL.

George Philips has filed his papers with the city clerk as a candidate for councilman of the Fifth ward on the Democratic ticket.

SUMMER GIRLS MUST BE DISCREET

Madame Grundy Lays Down Laws that Must Be Observed to Avoid Gossip.

To the conservative grandmother of today, whose girlhood was carefully guarded, the laxity displayed by the young people during vacation days is nothing short of appalling. Her up-to-date granddaughter, who has earned her right to carry a latch key along with her salary as teacher, stenographer, confidential clerk or salesgirl, tells grandma that this is a progressive age, and grandma is very apt to reply with some warmth that it is a scandalous age.

"Grandma's" forebodings are not without some reason. Of late years the summer girl has rather stretched the ropes of conventionality. She makes vacation or even summer days in town the excuse for doing those things which in the winter time she leaves undone, for accepting attentions from men of a nature which she would refuse to accept in midwinter. She is very apt to adopt a few open-work manners along with her few open-work waist. It is necessary to talk frankly with young girls, especially independent, self-supporting girls, about the favors, hospitalities and courtesies which they may feel free to accept from that interesting personage, the summer man.

Be Home Before Midnight.

In the winter, when a young man takes you to the theater and suggests supper after the play you are most particular as to the restaurant named and equally particular about reaching home before midnight. But in the summer, when the same man suggests an automobile trip, you stop unquestioningly at any roadside, suggested and the hour of your arrival at your own door seems to be a matter of supreme indifference. The glamour of the automobile seems to dazzle you to the demands of Mme. Grundy.

If a man asks you to go automobilizing you have a perfect right to ask the destination selected, and if the trip is to be a long one, to make inquiries as to your chaperon. The chauffeur usurps the post of chaperon only on a day trip. If a party of young people, say four or six, plan an automobile trip of several days, a married woman must be included in the party. If one man acts as host to the party he foots all bills. If the men club together for the jaunt then expenses, including those of the chaperon, are divided among them.

Etiquette of Breakdowns. In case of a breakdown which threatens to be serious, the girl who has gone alone with a man and his chauffeur, expecting only a short spin, will allow no stone to be left unturned to insure her return to the parental roof by night. If the man cannot repair his car, then he must get town for a livery rig and seeing her on board a train for town. He is then free to return and look after his car. No carelessness in this case is excusable. It's a progressive age indeed, and even farm-houses have telephones today.

If the breakdown occurs at a point where it is practically impossible to return to town, that is, at a resort reached only by motor or boat and the last boat has gone, then, if possible, recall some friend of the family who may reside at the resort and place yourself under his protection over night. If all else fails (and this emergency is rare) you must wire to your family or your whereabouts, go to one hotel while your host goes to another—and register a vow never again to motor without a chaperon.

A Day's Outing. The girl who goes unchaperoned to pass Saturday afternoon or Sunday at a nearby resort must be equally careful about trailer boat service. It is much safer to pass a few hot moments in the crowded depot or pier than to try to explain later on how you happened to miss the last train or boat.

You may accept from a man an invitation to attend a big ball game or sailing race, or sporting event of any sort, in another town, provided it is possible for you to make the round trip in one day. If it is necessary to remain over night in order to witness the race or game, then you must either have a chaperon in your party or remain with family friends while in the other city. It is absolutely impossible for a man to send you to a hotel and foot your bills, even though he remains at another hotel. It seems as if such a word of caution were unnecessary, yet the news columns of the daily papers tell how girls make such grave errors—and end in the divorce court.

LIMA, O.—Celebration of his wife's departure by noisy fireworks brought Sammy McDowell a fine of five dollars and costs in court.

Cordial Invitation to Become Real Members of the Redpath Family.

We have chosen this community as the center for one of our chautauquas because we have faith in the enterprise, enthusiasm and genuine chautauqua spirit of your citizens. We believe that the program we are offering this season eclipses any seven-day chautauqua program ever presented and likewise we have confidence in the ability of the people of this section to appreciate good things.

But not only do we invite you to attend, but to become real members of the big Redpath family, both by fellowship with your friends at the chautauqua grounds, and by making the acquaintance of the management, the superintendents and of the live young college men who comprise the tent crews. Cordially yours,

HARRY P. HARRISON,
Pres. and Gen. Mgr. Redpath Chautauquas.
